Fund Manager's Commentary

February witnessed local and foreign investors flocking UAE equities due to relatively cheap valuations.

Both Dubai Financial Market and Abu Dhabi Securities Market regained momentum by adding 7.7% and 5.0% respectively to their market value. All sectors closed the month in a positive territory with diversified financials, materials and telecommunications in the lead. Amongst the liquid stocks Dubai Islamic Bank was the star performer. The stock appreciated by 16.4% due to a relatively attractive cash and stock payout.

Liquidity dried in February when compared to the last month as value traded in shares declined in both Dubai and Abu Dhabi by 39% and 34% respectively. This suggests that investor exercised caution before first quarter results.

Your fund gained 6.8%, outperforming the benchmark by 2.15%. Most of the out performance during February can be attributed to stock selection. Our overweight in Dubai Islamic Bank was the major driver of out performance followed by Etisalat and Arabtec Holding; both of which are significant over weights in the fund.

Investors will keep an eye on the first quarter results which might act as a catalyst to move the markets to the upside in the near future. We believe that telecom sector will continue to benefit from the high GDP per capita in the country and consequently will show high profitability, hence will continue to overweight the sector. Generally the investment manager will continue to focus on sectors and stocks that will benefit from the inflationary environment or are expected to be least impacted compared to other sectors.
