Performance Chart

Overview and Outlook

UAE markets ended the month of June marginally down, as both Dubai Financial Market and Abu Dhabi Securities Market lost 1.4% and 1.8% respectively. The markets traded in a narrow range over the month with activity concentrated mostly in speculative stocks. With no major developments during June investors curbed trading to monitor the coming second quarter corporate results.

On sector basis Real estate, Banks, and utilities were the major contributors to the negative performance this month. The two major real estate developers Emaar and Al Dar ended the month negatively losing 2% and 7% respectively. Banks followed suit with most of banks slightly down - National bank of Abu Dhabi was the biggest loser with 5% down. Taqa the major utility stock slipped by 10% making utilities the third largest contributor to the market negative performance. On the other hand materials ended up supported by cement stocks positive performance. Telecommunications and capital goods also ended the month marginally up.

Your fund lost 0.87% during the month while outperforming the benchmark (MSCI UAE index was down by 1.5%) by 0.6% primarily due to our underweight in Banks and our overweight in Materials and Capital Goods.

UAE stock market ended the first half of 2007 with gains of 11.4% as measured by MSCI UAE Domestic Index, meanwhile your fund gained 15.6% during the same period and outperformed the benchmark by 4.2%. We expect positive second quarter results, and your fund is positioned to benefit from it based on our fundamental selective bottom up approach. Going forward we expect UAE stock markets to continue with its positive performance for the rest of 2007, however we believe there will be some profit taking activities during the summer season.
